A: You have an option to add a serial number to a product that you purchased from Adobe. From the official Adobe website, If you've purchased or received a product from Adobe, or if you've obtained a license for software that is included in a bundled product, you can use the Adobe Serial Number Tool to enter the serial number in Adobe Download Manager, Adobe Creative Cloud, Adobe Exchange (formerly Adobe Offi First, you have to install the Adobe Serial

Number Tool, Open the Adobe Serial Number Tool, which is available from Adobe's download website. Then to enter the serial number of the product, Click the Serial Number tab, and follow the steps on the screen. To add the serial number, Click Add Serial Number, and in the Serial Number Name box, enter the serial number of the product that you wish to use in the Serial Number field. If you do not know the serial number, look at the documentation for the product that you received from

Adobe. I am not sure how you are installing Adobe creative cloud, but there is some info about this in here: At this time, Adobe Creative Cloud Apps do not need serial numbers. You may sometimes see a dialog asking for serial numbers in some Adobe Creative Cloud App settings, but this is normal and not a security issue. To enter serial number, go to the Adobe ID area in the 'Adobe Premiere Pro', 'Adobe After Effects', or 'Adobe Audition' tab. If you are a Premiere Pro account user, enter your Premiere

Pro Serial Number (or the serial number that was included with the product that you bought from Adobe), and follow the instructions to activate the serial number.

NOTE If you have access to your product serial number, you will NOT need to enter your serial number through the Adobe ID area. Instead, you can enter the serial number directly in the Adobe Download Manager window. Q:
